Principal’s Message
Well it’s the end of another term and once again it has been a term of learning, community and success at Scottville. There have been many highlights in learning at our school with many of students hitting learning goals and targets. We have had successful events such as the amazing Book Week, the Super Under 8’s Day and the famous Scottville cricket day, both of which were testament to this great community.

Term 4 looks extremely busy as ever, with swimming, open days and transition for the new Prep students. Please ensure you are aware of the date claimer in this newsletter, the dates are also on our school website.

I wish all staff, students and families a safe and restful break and thank all of the staff for their continued commitment.

Learning to Read - Reading to Learn
Reading is core business at Scottville State School. We have embedded our literacy learning in our classrooms around the ability to read. Strong sound, word knowledge leads to strong reading strategies. All our classes from P-3 have strong explicit reading strategies to ensure students are learning to read. As they learn to read or decode the focus moves onto reading to learn. Reading can be guided, shared or independent to assist comprehension and build field knowledge through reading. This in turn leads to strong engagement with the Australian Curriculum and supports strong reading and the love of reading throughout life.

Scottville Superstars
Congratulations to Makayla Grant and, Ashlea O’Reagan for hitting their reading goal this term.

A+ Day Friday
This Term A+ Day is a Day Time Disco. We shall be dancing from 11.30 - 1.30pm. I am very pleased to see that for the 3rd time this year all our students have earned the right to be part of A+ Day.

Swimming Term 4
Our swimming program commences week 1 in Term 4 and will last 8 weeks. If you have not yet received a letter for attendance, please see the school office, a signed attendance letter is required for students to swim. Next Term Wednesday is swimming day, please be aware of the need for students to be ready for swimming on the day. If you have any concerns or queries about the swimming program, please contact the office.
